

1. Make sure your credit card support online payment. Please check with your credit card issuers to ascertain if they support online payment. On the other hand, both Visa and MasterCard offer additional security programs to give their cardholders extra protection when they make online payments. There is a possibility that your card issuer would decline your online payment request if you have not registered for these security programs. Please contact your card issuer for the registration. More details are also available from the Visa and MasterCard websites.
